It is my pleasure to recommend Brian Poole for employment with your organization. I have worked closely with Brian over the last few years in an effort to organize, streamline and elevate the client onboarding and implementation experience.

Brian eagerly takes the initiative and lends a helping hand when asked. His positive attitude and willingness to learn help to make processes and workflows more efficient. He takes on tasks that are not necessarily within his job requirements without complaint and does what he needs to in order to make sure a company is taken care of. Together these traits make him a valuable asset to any company.
